- 1) The new school year is here!
  - 2) Are you nervous about talking 3) to other students?
  - 4) Do you have trouble starting conversations?
  - 5) What about keeping conversations 6) going?
- Don't worry. 7) Here are five tips to become a better talker.

8) 1. Start by asking interesting questions.

- 9) Most people love to talk about 11) themselves.

So 12) give them the chance.

When you ask questions about people, 13) they will answer gladly.

“14) What did you do last weekend?”

“What do you like to do?”

2. 15) Be a good listener.

Many people are 16) poor listeners.

- 17) So how can you be a good listener?

18) Look people in the eye. Listen 19) carefully to their words.

20) Don't look at your cell phone or space out!

“I like listening to pop music.”

3. 21) Give feedback.

22) Be an active listener.

23) Nod your head from time to time.

You can say 24) little things like, “Wow!” or “Cool.”

You 25) can also say something like, “That's interesting. Tell me more.”

26) Giving feedback shows that you're listening.

"I went to the Blue Boys concert."

"That's interesting. Tell me more."

27) 4. Share common interests.

28) You can't have a conversation by just listening.

What 29) do you and your partner have in common?

Do you both like sports?

Then talk about your favorite baseball team.

"You like baseball, right?"

So do I. Let's talk about it."

5. 30) Pay attention to the listener

Sometimes people may 31) not be interested in your topic.

Don't say, "Hey, wake up!" or "Why aren't you listening to me?"

32) Change the topic, or your partner will fall asleep.

Give 33) the other person a chance to talk.

"Did I tell you about my favorite team? Blah, blah, blah."

"I'm talking 34) too much. Let's 35) change the topic."

36) Practice these tips, and you will soon be a great talker.

Put 37) others first, and everyone will want to talk with you.

My name is Jimmy. I am 38) in the eighth grade and my sister, Hope, is 39) in the third grade.

My father is a banker and my mother is a teacher. We have a dog, Smiley. 40) Sounds pretty normal, right? But 41) a crazy thing happened last week.

My father 42) usually comes home late from work. So, we 43) only see him on the weekends.

Even then, he 44) usually sleeps or watches television. But last Friday, he 45) came home early for dinner. At the table, 46) we were all doing our own thing. Hope 47) was giving food to Smiley. My mother 48) was telling her not to do so. I was texting.

My father said, "Pass me the bread, please." 49) No one heard him, 50) so he asked again, "51) Can someone pass me the bread?" 52) I heard him this time, but 53) I was too busy with my phone. My mother was yelling, "Don't feed Smiley!" Hope was feeding Smiley. Smiley was jumping up and down. My father shouted, "54) Am I invisible? Pass me the bread!"

55) Then, it happened. Poof! My father 56) disappeared like magic. He became 57) invisible! We 58) could hear him, but we couldn't see him. We asked, "Where are you?" "I'm 59) right in front of you," he replied. We 60) couldn't do anything for him. It was 61) an awful night.

Next morning, we went to the hospital and 62) asked the doctor to help us. I said, "63) He has been invisible since last night." The doctor 64) shook his head and said, "I 65) can't help you. 66) I've never seen anything like this before."

When we came home, Hope said, "I miss Daddy." She 67) started crying. My mother joined her. 68) In a few moments, we were 69) a sea of tears. "Come back, Dad! 70) I promise to pass you the bread every day!" I cried.

Then, 71) it happened. My father 72) appeared again! He hugged us and said, "73) Thank you for all the attention.

I 74) promise to come home earlier and play with you on the weekends."
